

HALL-of-HONOR INDUCTEES

FRIEND-of-BASKETBALL

JAMES HODGES

Vestaburg High School

James Hodges taught for 47 remarkable years in the Vestaburg schools. He has run the clock and helped as scorekeeper for 48 years. James has been a great role model in the community for his excellence as a teacher and coach in the district. He has coached JV football, track and freshman basketball. Not only is he a great "Friend-of-Basketball", but he also handled the duties of timekeeping and scorebook for football as well. James has had a remarkable career in the Vestaburg schools as a math, science and computer teacher. He has served as the National Honor Society advisor for 32 years and was named the NHS "Advisor-of-the-Year" for the state of Michigan. He even drove a school bus for 13 years. As a charter member of Vestaburg Lions Club, he served as president 4 times in his 38 year membership.

James and wife, Marie have two children and six grandchildren.
